DETAILED ACTIONClaim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-2 and 9-10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Van Der Werf et al (6,122,058).

Regarding claims 1 and 9, Van Der Werf (Fig. 8) discloses a device including a laser 120, a detector 141 for the laser light reflected off measuring surface 145, and a polarization analyzer 210 acting as a mode filter between the surface and detector.

As for claims 2 and 10, the polarization analyzer is a mode filter in this case because laser light has two basic polarization modes, and the polarization analyzer blocks one polarization mode while allowing the other to pass, thereby acting as a mode filter.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

As to the above claims, the prior art of record, taken either alone or in combination, fails to disclose or render obvious a device where the mode filter comprises a beam splitter splitting the light beam into a pair of beams that eventually interfere with one another, this interference leading to the suppression of a particular mode by the filter, in combination with the rest of the elements and limitations of the claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicants' arguments filed April 12, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicants' main arguments claim that the detectors of the Van Der Werf patent do not detect an intensity of light that is reflected off the measuring surface. While it is granted that there is no explicit mention of the detection of the intensity of the light, such an explicit statement is unnecessary. Intensity detection is inherent to the operation of a detector, especially in interferometry. The intensity of the light reaching a certain point on a detector is key in determining whether there is a constructive interference at that point in the system, leading to a very intense light signal, or destructive interference, leading to a nearly non-existent, dark signal. The detectors then transmit this intensity signal to a processor for any signal analysis.

As for the request for separate treatment of claims 2 and 10, see the arguments above with regards to the explicit rejection of the claims.

Conclusion

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
